

How to Search Academic Information with Discovery

What is Discovery?

The Discovery Service can be used to carry out a metasearch for many kinds of academic information. With Discovery, you can find not only Kobe University Library holdings, but also digital archives or academic papers on external databases. Electronic resources have full-text links.

1. Access

The Discovery search can be used by selecting "Discovery Service" under the search box. You can also access it from the menu of OPAC screen.

Library Website

<https://lib.kobe-u.ac.jp/en/>

When you use the Discovery search, please enter keywords into the search box and select "Discovery Service".

2. Search Rules

You can obtain many results by using the Discovery Service. It is useful to know search rules like the following for obtaining appropriate results.

● Boolean Operators

AND		You can search for resources that include both A and B.	Space e.g.) 「A_B」
OR		You can search for resources that include at least one keyword.	OR e.g.) 「A_OR_B」
NOT		You can search for resources that include A but not B.	NOT e.g.) 「A_NOT_B」

※ “()” : Change search priority ⇒ 「economic_(world_OR_global)」

: Search for resources that include economic and world or economic and global.

● Wildcards (Special Symbols)

*	Prefix Search	e.g.) gene* ⇒ Search for gene, general, generation
?	Character change	e.g.) dostevsk? ⇒ Search for Dostevsky, Dostevski

● Phrase Search

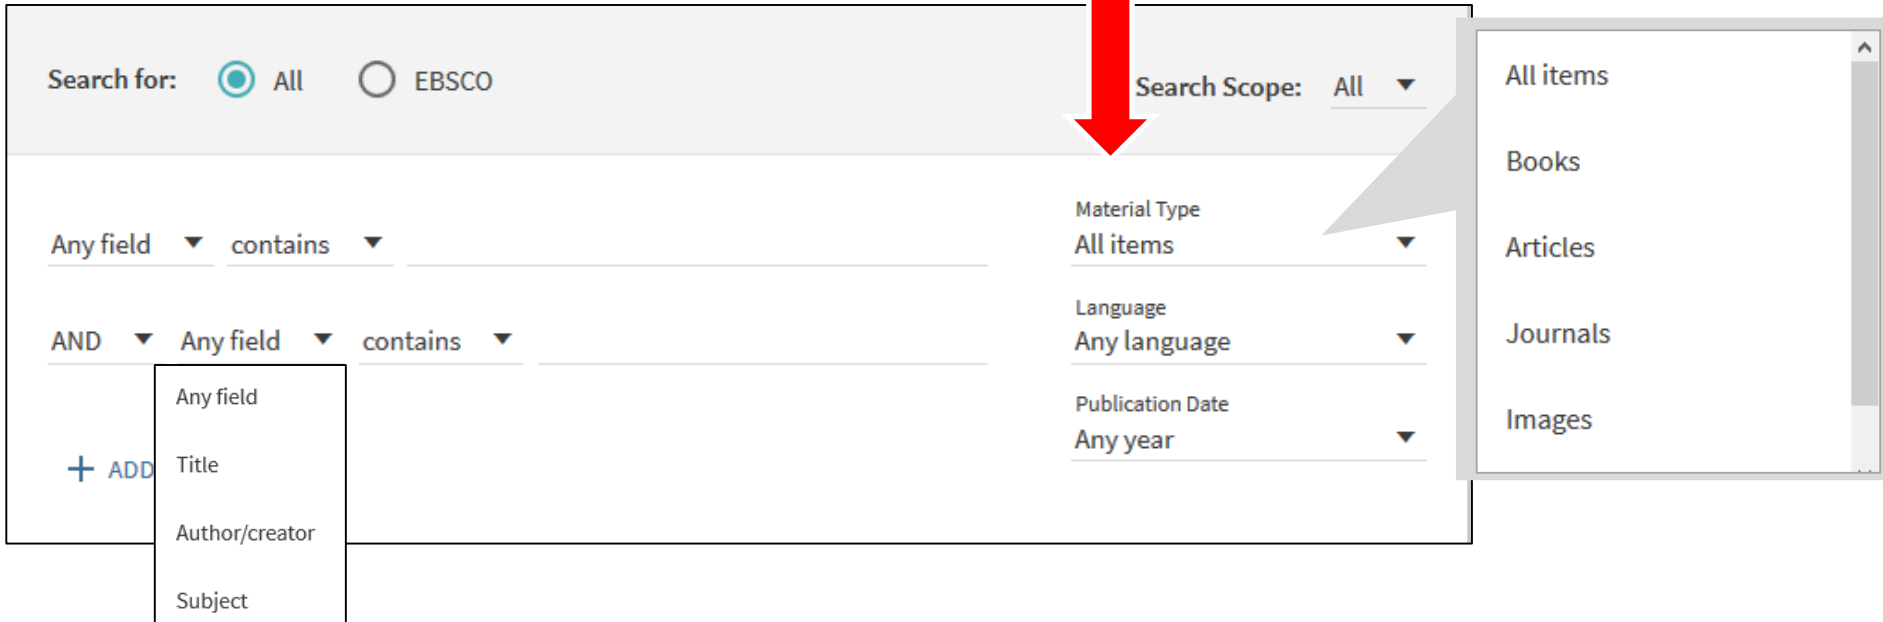

Enclose phrase in ""	e.g.) "cosmic dust" ⇒ Exclude "dust on cosmic microwave"
